COACHES DIRECTORY
All of our Calling in “The One” Coaches have been personally trained, mentored and certified by New York Times Bestselling Author, Katherine Woodward Thomas, M.A., MFT.

All are available for private One-on-One Coaching Sessions. Our coaches can meet with you in person, via telephone or Skype across time zones so you need not choose a coach who lives in your part of the world.

We invite you to scroll through the coaches listed below and reach out to a coach you feel might be a good match for you. Then request a free 20-minute exploratory call to see if you feel that coach is a good fit for you.

Warmly,

The Calling in “The One” Support Team
An international Transformational Coach, Love and Relationship Expert, innovator and intuitive healer with a thriving global Calling in “The One” practice, Lina draws on 40 years of training and experience with leading teachers and experts in personal transformation and cutting edge healing modalities to work at depth to unlock the limiting patterns in love that have persisted for years despite her client’s best efforts. She is known for her Breakthrough to Love Sessions, where she brings deep insight, intuition and a commitment to each client to ensure they have that key breakthrough that will set them free. She then expertly guides them through each critical step to attracting a great love in their lives. Her profound sessions have led to miracles of love for her clients regardless of age, circumstances or past experiences of disappointment in love.

“I was called to become a Calling in “The One” Coach at the very beginning of Katherine’s pioneering program. This work touched my heart and stirred my sense of hope in a way that few things have in my life. When I and my first clients manifested unprecedented miracles of love, calling in these most singular, amazing life and love partners, I knew I’d made the right choice. Today, I am blessed to work with these powerful transformative practices, midwifing true magic and miracles in the love lives of my clients every day.”

Triply certified as a Senior Calling in “The One,” Conscious Uncoupling and Feminine Power Transformational Coach/Facilitator, Lina was personally trained by and is a founding member of the Coaching / Facilitating circles supporting Katherine Woodward Thomas, MA, MFT and Claire Zammit, PhD (c) over the last 11 years as their global courses positively impacted tens of thousands of participants. Lina is also a seasoned teacher and skilled practitioner of a number of powerful energy healing and transformative modalities, including DNA/ThetaHealing and Reference Point Therapy. She is an expert in leading women, men and couples through key life altering shifts that open the path to deep healing and fulfilling love.

“You are a miracle worker. After years of work, during our first session you were able to reach the root of my pattern in love. I felt set free to be me for the first time in my life and I’m still seeing results every day in my life. Best of all, because of the profound steps I made with your inspired coaching, I called in the most amazing man and our wedding is in May. I can’t express enough gratitude to you for my new life.”

As a Senior Calling in “The One” and Conscious Uncoupling Coach/Facilitator, Jeanne effectively guides clients to fall in love with themselves as the foundation for loving others, and to remove any and all barriers to attracting great love into their lives.

Jeanne is also a Senior Feminine Power Coach and Facilitator, and a founding member of the original Core Group (8), personally trained by Katherine Woodward Thomas and Claire Zammit. In the last 10 years, Jeanne has coached hundreds of individuals, using her creative skills as a coach and visual artist to inspire people to create their biggest and most potent vision for love.

Jeanne is also a wellness expert and is currently pursuing a certification with the School of Integrative Nutrition in New York. She has used her own experience of overcoming chronic illness to fuel and inspire people to live rich, full and purposeful lives.

Utilizing her 27-year professional filmmaking career, Jeanne recently launched her e-course Wake Up to Your Deepest Desires and Reignite Your Life. Her video summits include Reignite Your Life, Women 50+, Reboot and Revolutionize Your Midlife, an inspirational video summit with 24 women experts for women ages fifty and up; and, most recently she hosted and produced a 3 part series, Embracing the Cycles and Colors of Love in Mid Life.

A Calling in “The One” success story herself, Jeanne is a ferocious stand for all people to listen to the “whispers of the heart” to help them navigate their way home to love, and to access their deepest desires to step into their unique calling in life and in love.

‘Dear Jeanne, words cannot express how much I appreciated your loving, skillful guidance during our sessions together. I am moving forward with the feeling of optimism, upliftment, strength and confidence. I now know that my deepest yearnings can be achieved and I have everything I need to become the One who will find her One! With deep gratitude and much love, Emma.’
Prem Glidden is a healer, transformational coach and teacher deeply committed to “being the change she wants to see in the world.” She has been involved in natural healing work for over 30 years. Prem is a powerful guide in supporting you to achieve your greatest possibilities in life and in love.

She is a Senior Certified Calling in “The One” Coach, a Senior Certified Feminine Power Coach, a Certified Life Line Practitioner and a Minister of Peace with the Beloved Community. She was the Director of a Kundalini Yoga and Meditation ashram in Fairbanks, Alaska for 10 years.

Combining practical ability with intuition and deep love and compassion, Prem will assist you in breaking through barriers that have stopped you in the past while offering the skills and capacities you need to co-create the relationships you have been yearning for. She has successfully supported many of her clients to find the love and partnership of their dreams.

Prem lives in Delray Beach, FL with her beloved, Bob (who she “called in” using the Calling in “The One” process) in a lovely condo overlooking a lake. Her life is a wonderful example that finding your soulmate and experiencing amazing love and partnership is possible, even in your 60’s!

"When I met Prem, I was a single mom with low and self-esteem and filling pretty discouraged about the possibility of ever having the love and family I yearned for. Prem’s wisdom and support on my journey has been invaluable. Today I am married to an amazing man who adores me, and in my mid-40’s have just given birth to a beautiful little girl. From the first session, I was hooked on her work. She has a wonderful understanding and I love her voice and all the love she brings. I can feel that this not just work but a passion. I highly recommend working with Prem."

Lynne’s tender and loving presence helps men and women grow in confidence, feel seen and known in their gifts, unique strengths, and beautiful hearts. She brings curiosity and skill as she helps clients uncover and transform what has keeping them from love and often they then attract the love of their lives.

Lynne’s own journey took her through a painful search for love, working at it through many relationships and suffering through them one by one. She is happy to have found keys to healing into authentic sustainable love through Katherine’s work and others. This process has inspired her work with hundreds of clients.

As both a licensed psychotherapist and professionally certified coach for over 20 years, Lynne offers her clients a potent combination of healing and personal empowerment. She is a senior Calling in the One Coach, Master Relationship Coach and trainer of scores of coaches at the Relationship Coaching Institute, certified in Heart Math, and other healing modalities.

Lynne’s path began in 1972 at a program for transformation in England; she is truly passionate about awareness practices, teaching meditation and mindfulness. Lynne offers her Deepening Intimacy and Conscious and Playful programs in the San Francisco Bay area to teach conscious relationship skills. It is indeed a magical world, and Lynne is delighted to be ‘in love’ with her partner, her three grown children and her four grand-children.

“Lynne’s work is extraordinary. She is intuitive, brings processes that helped me sort out useful and not useful beliefs and feelings. She is warm and creates a heart-fall and safe container. I can’t recommend her highly enough. She helped me figure out what I needed to be ready for a relationship and not only did I meet my partner on the internet but she worked with us and then was our marriage officiate.”

When Mary embarked on her journey of personal renewal some years ago, she discovered the "Calling in The One" program. In midlife and newly single, she suddenly found herself starting over again, discovering that nothing in her previous life, neither her accomplishments nor her experiences, had prepared her for this more than challenging life transition. Happily, both the "Calling in The One" and advanced training programs were instrumental in Mary realizing major breakthroughs in both her professional and personal life, leading to her being trained and certified as a Senior "Calling in The One," Feminine Power Leader and Conscious Uncoupling coach.

Prior to this, Mary was a qualified counselor, accredited mediator and trainer. Her clients included couples, families, children and young people and organizations. In these roles her specialty areas included personal counseling, career and educational counseling, management of traumatic incidents, employee assistance, school and workplace bullying, victim-offender mediation and organizational dispute management.

Now as an international transformative coach, Mary is able to bring to her clients world-wide the richness of her professional and lived experience. Her intention as a coach is to uniquely partner her clients so that they achieve significant breakthroughs in their own journeys to healing, transformation and love fulfilled. Mary’s clients report that she is not only highly skilled, but is wise, warm and compassionate.
Jana’s deep listening, skillful questioning and compassionately honest approach empowers her clients to complete their past and move through any blocks to love into a new sense of possibility, wholeness and thriving in life and love. Jana holds a heart-centered space for each person and is passionate about empowering individuals to move beyond self-diminishing behavioral patterns to confidently stand in fully knowing and valuing themselves in all their relationships. Jana has used Calling in “The One” teachings in her own life and with clients to deepen into joyous, authentic relatedness and mutual support with family, friends and colleagues.

Standing with Katherine for over 10 years, Jana is a Calling in “The One” and Feminine Power Senior Coach and Facilitator. She holds a doctorate degree in psychology and is a licensed psychotherapist, board-certified coach, and inspirational workshop leader. Jana has over 35 years of experience fostering healing, growth and transformation, supporting people through her Life With Heart Center to successfully navigate life transitions and challenges.

A visionary catalyst for change, Jana brings deep understanding, intuitive insight and “old soul” wisdom to the transformative journey of becoming the person you are meant to be, living life with love and deep relatedness—a life with heart.
Jane Velten is a warm, compassionate, and confident guide for women and men who desire to create lasting love in their lives. As a Senior Calling in “The One” Coach, she creates an intimate sense of partnership and possibility with her clients, and helps them to take a powerful stand for love, magic and miracles.

For the past 30 years, Jane’s work—as a writer, facilitator and coach—has centered on helping men and women learn how their inherent differences can energize, rather than undermine, their partnerships. She and her husband, Dirk—the love of her life—have led gender workshops throughout the United States, as well as Europe and Russia. Today, they offer their Evolving Partnership—Women & Men programs online, as well as provide Third Body Coaching for those clients who wish to work privately with both a man and a woman.

Jane is a trained facilitator for Voice Dialogue, the transformative process created by Drs. Hal and Sidra Stone, which helps her tune into a client’s “diversity of selves,” while bringing forward their authentic voice. She is also certified in Feminine Power Mastery Leadership, where she received personal mentoring from Katherine Woodward Thomas and Claire Zammit for several years.

In doing her work in the world, Jane stays true to her intention: “To offer my evolutionary leadership in a way that is authentic, radiant and irresistibly feminine!”

“Working with Jane, I was constantly uplifted by her wise, gentle, caring and fun guidance which helped to turn my love life around in a matter of months after 20 years of frustration and heartache. Jane offers a unique combination of professionalism, intuition and her own personal experience, having taken this same journey to create an inspiring partnership with her husband, Dirk.”

As a psychotherapist and licensed spiritual counselor for more than 20 years, Judy specializes in helping people, especially victims of trauma, to discover the truth of themselves and to creatively reinvent their lives. Judy works with her clients to profoundly create and heal relationships (family and love) and expand into a sense of what is truly possible!

Judy has been passionately involved in the empowerment of women since she was a teenager and moved west to found a political dance/theater company inspired to advocate for women’s needs and causes. She later came to Los Angeles to continue her work as an actress and dancer and got involved in assisting battered women in turning their lives around. This work was so compelling that she changed course and became a spiritual counselor through the Agape International Spiritual Center and then a Marriage and Family Therapist through The University of Santa Monica. She now works intensively with addicts, survivors of trauma and on the fun side, helping people find and grow in love.

10 years ago she met Katherine Woodward Thomas and Claire Zammit and became part of the Feminine Power and Calling In “The One” communities. As a therapist and a married woman, Katherine asked Judy to join the CITO team and be a go-to coach. As Judy says: “I credit this teaching not only for giving me a platform to serve my life’s destiny, but also to giving me the skills to stay connected with, and married to, my wonderful husband! I use these teachings every day of my life in my personal journey and as inspiration and guidance for my clients.”

In addition to being a Senior CITO Coach, Judy is in training to coach Katherine’s new program “Conscious Uncoupling.”
Janet is a love and relationship expert with a passion for helping people who have been disappointed in love to find and realize the deeply fulfilling and long lasting relationships they have been longing for.

As a Senior Calling in “The One” Coach, Janet has supported hundreds of clients to challenge their deeply held beliefs about what is possible for them in love, allowing them step fully into their power to create relationships where they feel seen, supported and loved... often for the first time in their lives.

As a Senior Conscious Uncoupling Coach, Janet gently supports her clients through the difficult terrain of loss and grief, empowering them to transform heartbreak into hope and a renewed sense of possibility for their lives. Having lived through the pain, frustration and loneliness that come from being on the outside of love, Janet is able to meet clients where they are with compassion and deep presence. Her warmth, wisdom and humor guide clients along their journey of healing and transformation.

Janet is also a Certified Martha Beck Life Coach and holds a Reality Therapy certification from the William Glasser Institute. Janet has experience in working with addiction and spiritual principles through Al-Anon and other recovery groups.

Janet is fiercely committed to the premise that the most profound and lasting transformation comes from changing our beliefs about who we are and what is possible for us. She brings her insight, her natural ability to inspire, and an unshakable faith in the ability of each and every one of us to create the love we so deeply desire.
Suz is very passionate about partnering with her Calling in “The One” clients to guide them to transform and thrive in their lives, their relationships, and to open to happy, healthy new love. She is devoted in bringing greater levels of well-being, love, and happiness into their lives. With warmth, deep care, and understanding, Suz gently helps her clients navigate to clarity and empowerment while extending deep presence, compassion, and encouragement.

Suz has been on her personal journey for many years, and the Calling in “The One” process, in particular, has provided her with the practices and tools to flourish. She experiences all of her relationships as an opportunity for personal and professional growth, as well as development and inspiration as a coach. Using the Calling in “The One” tools, Suz has magically shifted difficult relationships into harmonious ones, and discovered a road map for how to live a rich and beautiful life, starting with a deep sense of self-love.

Suz is also a Senior Conscious Uncoupling Coach, and a certified Feng Shui consultant, energy healer, and body worker – and has spent several years in public services at a diverse community college.

Suz is constantly growing and developing by observing herself and embracing new teachings and loves to share this approach with her clients. Suz is extremely committed to partnering with her clients to move to greater levels of self-love as a basis to wholesomely welcome new love in their lives.
